"MY LADIES' GARTER"

That was the warning embroidered on the dainty circlet and which tumbled a guileless lover into a scandal with an heiress, a blackening plot and more spine tingling excitement than any other garter ever started.

CAREFUL PLAN REQUIRED FOR SUNDAY DINNER

Housewife Must Be Clever With Brain and Funds to Prepare Meal for Her Family.

$15 FOR FAMILY OF SIX

Estimate Is Given by One of Columbia Merchants—Vegetables Are High for This Time of Year.

Careful planning and clever manipulation of both brain and funds are required by the modern housewife if she is to order and cook a delectable, well-balanced Sunday dinner for her family. If her funds are limited she must exercise all the more skill in contriving to serve a meal with all the "makings" at the present day prices.

With beef roasts ranging in price from 15 to 35 cents, according to the cut, a beef roast for a family of six would amount to from 85 cents to $1.25, whereas a pork or veal roast would come considerably higher. Steaks average from 25 to 45 cents a pound, fish are selling from 30 to 40 cents a pound and frying chickens are selling at 35 cents a pound. Meats, deliciously cooked and ready to serve at a moment's notice, can be bought from 30 to 85 cents a pound.

At the present time vegetables are high, with prices as follows: Lima beans, 15 cents a pound or 45 cents a gallon; fresh tomatoes, 8 cents a pound; string beans, 7 cents a pound; corn, 35 cents a dozen; potatoes, 4 cents a pound; sweet potatoes, 10 cents a pound; shipped head lettuce, 25 to 30 cents a head; celery, 10 cents a bunch; green peppers, 25 cents a dozen.

Fruit is still soaring beyond the reach of ordinary individuals with apples at $3.50 to $4. a bushel; peaches, $4.50 to $5 a bushel; oranges from 60 cents to $1 a dozen and bananas at 17 1-2 cents a pound. Cantaloupes and watermelons are moderately cheap.

With fresh vegetables so expensive, the housewife might even consider the excellent prepared salads, fresh and delicious. They are selling from 40 to 75 cents a pound.

One merchant estimated that a Sunday dinner for a family of six using the most expensive cuts of meat and the very best quality of vegetables would probably reach the $15 mark.

"If the housewife would only remember," said one merchant today, "that the less expensive cuts of meat are just as good as those which cost more, she would find that she could spread her funds over more space. But some people think if a steak is not a porterhouse or a sirloin it is not a steak."

"It takes conscientious application and ingenuity to be an A1 housewife these days," said another merchant.
